We show how idempotents of the factor ring $R/(n)$ of a principal ideal domain $R$ can be used to classify solutions of a congruence $ax \equiv b \pmod{n}$. As a special case we obtain a recently proved condition (cf. [1] and [2]) for the existence of its solutions coprime to $n$.

References
